Study Management where global leaders emerge

Every student who comes to Cattolica soon discovers his or her favorite place. From lawns and cloisters to cafés, gardens and laneways, Cattolica offers an environment where lifelong memories are forged.

Cattolica is one of those great European universities which has become part of the city landscape. It is a complete University within a prized central location. Cattolica has a strong academic profile, one that is reflected by its ranking, reputation, and global network. Cattolica students enjoy high levels of interaction with academic staff. They have numerous course choices and access to excellent facilities, not least our extensive library.

Our main campus in Milan is an integral part of the local community. The bustling streets around our campus are full of cafés, restaurants, and shops. Our students mingle with tourists, business people, and the local population. Yet hidden discreetly within our perimeter are picturesque gardens and courtyards, all of which add to the unique ambience and conducive study environment.

Many of the city's premier attractions, including Il Duomo, Castello Sforzesco, Galleria Vittorio Emanuele II, Via della Spiga, and the Navigli canal district, are located just a few minutes walk away. Some are even within the University neighborhood, such as La Basilica di Sant'Ambrogio.

To study at Cattolica is to become one with the city. Our students are part of the spirit of Milan, described by a group of International Students as surreal, magical, cosmopolitan, gracious, fashionable, and Bohemian.

Footsteps around Milan

Milan is a city of movement. People walk everywhere. Their sense of style ranges from casual sophistication to elegant design.

Milan is a modern and progressive city, the commercial heartland of Italy, and headquarter to many of Italy's multinational corporations and world famous brands.

Milan is a city of people. A city full of life. The menus of Milanese restaurants have influenced the world's finest cuisines. And the creations of Italian designers have placed Milan alongside New York, Paris, and London as a home of global fashion.

Milan is the undisputed financial, commercial and industrial capital of the country and has a driving economy that makes it the only gate to international capital markets. It has over 8,600 registered active national and international financial and insurance businesses.

The Italian Stock Exchange, la Borsa Italiana, which lists over 220 companies, is located ten minutes away from our campus, a prime vicinity for those students studying in the fields of Economics, and Banking and Finance.

Being headquarter to many of Italy's multinational corporations and world famous brands, Cattolica students can breathe and live the energy of a business-centered city life right outside the central campus doorstep, and are in the ideal position to put into practice the knowledge gained during the courses whilst using their own language abilities and cultural competencies that are so valued and sought-after.

Milan is also hosting the Expo 2015 World Fair with the central theme of "Feeding the Planet, Energy for Life," providing companies operating in a wide range of fields (from food and food biotechnologies to renewable energies and logistics) the chance to network, discuss trends and encourage business and growth. Cattolica students are in an excellent position to closely observe and discuss the planning of this key event.

Yet despite the opportunities which accompany a busy and successful city, the essence of Milan is as true today as in centuries past. With the world-famous opera theatre, La Scala, the imposing Duomo Cathedral, the stunning Castello Sforzesco, and the young and trendy Colonne di San Lorenzo all close by, Milan marks its presence on the global cultural scene too.

In short, Milan is a beautiful, cultured and dramatic city, offering a multitude of features that tourists rarely discover and an equal number of opportunities for International Students to develop their academic and professional careers.

Why choose Management at Cattolica?

“The well prepared professors are always available to assist students.”

Location
Cattolica lies at the heart of the city bursting with opportunity and character. Milan is the capital of the Lombardy region, having the highest participation in the labor market. The city alone has close to 3,000 International multinationals employing over 300,000 people.

By living and studying in Milan, with its multicultural population and constant flow of international businesses and investments, Cattolica students are in the ideal position to put into practice the knowledge gained in the course whilst using their own language abilities and cultural competencies that are so valued and sought-after (especially English speakers).

A high number of companies seek international managers and many of our students successfully find employment after completing their internships.

A genuine experience
Cattolica is a renowned international catholic institution and its School of Economics is considered one of the best in Italy. Cattolica has a strong academic profile, one that is reflected by its ranking, reputation and global network. Cattolica takes great pride in offering its students the chance to become global leaders in the managerial field through its Management program.

Scholarships
Each year Università Cattolica awards many hundreds of need and merit based scholarships to eligible undergraduate and graduate students. Individual awards can either consist of a reduction of the annual tuition amount or a full scholarship covering tuition and additional benefits, depending on the student's eligibility for scholarship assistance.

Innovative method
You will experience an intensive teaching activity with active in-class participation, a direct interaction with the faculty members, and constant relationships with academics, companies, and stakeholders of the Management sector.

World-class opportunities
The prized central location of our University equals the academic and professional excellence of our Faculty members. The quality of our graduates are known to leading global management companies which specifically come to our Milan campus to present their companies and recruit the most brilliant students for their graduate schemes.

Placement & Career Service
Cattolica's Career Service will accompany you through this journey: the dedicated staff will help orientate you along the paths of research, internships and employment, providing highly valued information and support. Over 6,500 internships are undertaken annually, and contacts include 2,000 companies. In 2011 Cattolica was ranked No.1 in employment placement in Italy.
